Professional Experience

I have forty-years expertise in the nutrition, exercise and fitness fields. As a national speaker, I have been a leader and educator on the subject of Whole Food Nutrition and Glandular Nutritional Therapy. I educate consumers and healthcare professionals on the therapeutic benefits for the body and its integration not only into the consumer's lifestyle, but also into the traditional medical practice to enhance the healing process and prevent disease. By educating the consumer and healthcare practitioner about the dangers of commercial foods and how to easily search out natural and healthy alternatives I have helped hundreds of individuals over the past thirty plus years improve their health and restore vitality.

I am a nationally certified fitness professional with the American College of Sports Medicine and possess a degree in Psychology where I apply the physiological benefits of fitness with the incorporation of nutrition and the principles of "The Psychology of Success" to maintain the health the patient and consumer are working so hard to achieve.

I have a vast repertoire of accomplishments for many companies, large and small, in creating and developing marketing and educational materials and systems for the consumer, patient, and professional that led to growth, financial stability, additional revenue streams, and improved patient/client retention. I am continually interviewed on local and national radio and television and I have written articles for local and regional magazines, journals, and newspapers and I am in the process of authoring a book based on my flagship presentations "Dying by the Mouthful- Is Your Food Killing You?" and "Trix AREN'T For Kids!"

Clinical Experience

Current Position: Director of Naturopathic Medicine at Progressive Medical. I serve as a staff physician, and manage the other Naturopathic Doctors on staff. I conduct one of the only integrated Naturopathic residencies outside of the major Naturopathic Universities. (2005 to present). I serve on the BOA for Xymogen, a Fortune 500 top 50 Inc. company, designing nutrient formulas. I am director of a nutritional lab known as NutraTest for which I design clinical profiles. I also serve on an independent IRB to give feedback concerning various studies in the area of integrated medicine. I am called upon yearly to do grand rounds at all the major Naturopathic medical schools.

Previous Experience Staff clinician and educational consultant at Metamatrix laboratory. As a member of the education department, I am involved in clinical consultations with health care practitioners, as well as on-going research efforts to evolve lab data and analysis. Job responsibilities also included writing and editing of educational materials for physicians and clients.

I completed my residency at Cancer Treatment Centers of America in Tulsa (CTCA). CTCA is an integrated hospital that provides both conventional and complementary therapies. In addition to seeing patients, I taught weekly classes designed to educate the patient about researched natural therapies. I also participated on various committees such as the tumor board and the scientific advisory committee/IRB in order to help direct research initiatives. There are 20 residencies available for the 400 NDs that graduate each year. I was accepted to do the three residencies that I applied for. (2001-2002)

Lecture Experience:

Lecturer for all Naturopathic Medical Schools in North America – I have been routinely invited to speak at Grand Rounds at all Naturopathic Medical schools in an on-going basis since 2005. I consistently receive positive evaluations and am asked to return. Based on my lectures done for Xymogen in 2007, each school has asked me to return in 2008, unless policy prevents two years in a row.

Physician lectures and webinars for Xymogen-2008. Rated one of the “best lectures ever,” by attendees.

Lecturer for DANLA (Diplomat in Advanced Nutrition and Laboratory Assessment)—focused on presentations involving hormones and laboratory assessment. This was an 8-hour lecture to a group of integrated physicians including M.D.s, D.O.s, nurse practitioners, etc.

Guest lecturer at the Institute of Functional Medicine, 2005, “Managing the Biochemistry of Parkinson’s”

On-going lecturer for “Alive Expo,” a trade show for the public centered around natural health, 2006 to present

On-going appearances on local radio talk shows discussion the impact of natural medicine on health
